

Greater Experience Credit Union

Social Media Public Use Guidelines & Disclaimer Notice

Adopted: January 2015

The intention of Greater Experience Credit Union's Social Media presence is to engage our members and the community for the purpose of financial education and to provide information about credit union products, services, events and promotions.

We invite you to share experiences and contribute to conversations. We ask you to treat each other, and our employees, with respect. While we encourage member (and non-member) participation, we cannot respond to every comment. Our failure to respond to, or act on a comment, should not be seen as acceptance nor an endorsement of that comment. Greater Experience Credit Union (Greater Experience) is not responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, for content posted by third parties. If you see inappropriate content, please report it to: memberservice@greaterexperience.org.

Greater Experience Credit Union respects the confidentiality of each of our members' unique financial situation and their personal financial information. Because responding to account-specific posts would infringe upon such rights, Greater Experience may remove any posts and/or request for the individual to contact us directly to discuss their individual situation.

Greater Experience Credit Union encourages participation in discussions and would like to keep commentary friendly for all ages. While this is an open forum, we intend to maintain a family-friendly atmosphere. Please always use appropriate language when posting and/or commenting.

By submitting any content, you grant Greater Experience Credit Union the right to use this content in all Greater Experience Web sites, including social media channels, print and other media, without payment or any other considerations.
